~~~~~ ABOUT CARTWRIGHT'S RANCH HOUSE ~~~~~

Cartwright's Ranch House opened in 2011, but began as an idea many years ago. Having spent my entire adult life in restaurants, I wanted one day to open my own place. I wanted it to have a comfy, home-like feel, that serves outstanding, homestyle food. Food like everyone's mom, dad, and others prepare at home. I know you'll enjoy it!

Our location was originally part of Downtown Denton's "Theater Row" in the 1930's, 40's, and early 50's. It was called "The Dreamland" Theater. It closed and was torn down to build the present day building.

The first tenant was a Benjamin Franklin dime store, followed by several other shops and restaurants. Most recently, it was Ruby's Diner for nearly 24 years.

During our renovation, we discovered the brick on the north wall. It was behind 4 different layers of material. The final layer was plaster, directly covering the bricks. On that plaster, a mural was painted on it that was part of the decor of the Dreamland Theater. It was green in color and a portion can still be seen above the walk-in cooler in the back dining room. If you look closely at the brick wall, some bricks appear "glazed" as a result of several fires over the past several decades.
